EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

The 2018 DRAFT Lake Forest Park Parks Recreation Open Space and Trails (PROST) Plan examines the city's open space assets and engages the public in determining the level of recreational service being provided, then outlines recommended improvements to form a basis for future capital improvement planning. This plan has been prepared in compliance with State of Washington Growth Management Act requirements and compliments the Lake Forest Park Comprehensive Plan's Parks and Open Space Element. Additionally, the plan has been developed in compliance with the Washington State Recreation and Conservation Office guidelines.

The PROST plan inventories and analyzes the city's eight existing parks and numerous undeveloped city owned parcels. It examines the city's properties in comparison to demographics, and in comparison to other cities and national recreational standards. In this comparison, Lake Forest Park was found to have a low ratio of park acres to population, and while residents show satisfaction with the city's parks and recreation amenities, they rely upon neighboring communities to meet their interests in an aquatic center and recreation center.

The planning process engaged the residents of Lake Forest Park through an online survey and series of public workshops to assess current park and recreation use and define needs and desires. Participation in the process was good and demonstrates a high level of public enthusiasm. Overall, the current level of service provided by the city's parks, recreational facilities, open spaces and trails was found to be acceptable, but with an interest in specific additions and improvements.

To improve level of service and provide for residents' interests, recommendations on a city-wide scale and park-specific scale are proposed in the plan. City-wide, the development of two recently acquired properties – Big Tree Park and Five Acre Woods are proposed along with recommendations to activate smaller city-owned parcels for recreational use. New trails are also outlined to improve walking and bicycling opportunities. Following the city-wide recommendations, each of the city's existing parks receives a specific set of recommendations to improve access, use, natural health, and diversity of recreational offerings. Following the recommendations is an estimate of probable cost.

This DRAFT PROST Plan will now be evaluated, tested, and modified through a process of review with the city's staff, planning commission, newly-formed parks commission, city council and public. During this review process, recommendations may change, or be replaced with new ideas. Prioritization will be conducted determining which improvements will be constructed in the near-term and which will be long-range future projects. Funding sources will be explored, and a capital development plan will be formed in the next version of this plan.

O1 INTRODUCTION

INTRODUCTION

The 2018 PROST plan assesses how well the city's parks, open spaces, and programs are serving the community and proposes improvements and changes to meet evolving needs.

Specifically, the purpose of this document is to:

- Assess the current state of the city's parks, open spaces, and recreational programs
- Determine the level of service provided
- Raise public awareness of parks and recreational programs
- Identify needs and wishes for future improvements
- Anticipate future growth, demographic changes, and recreational trends
- Outline a capital improvement plan identifying future improvements and acquisitions

This process examines and integrates state and city requirements, planning tools, and initiatives that relate to parks, recreation, open space and trail. The following is a summary of the pertinent material.

STATE OF WASHINGTON REQUIREMENTS

GROWTH MANAGEMENT ACT REQUIREMENTS

The State of Washington, under RCW 36.70A.070, outlines the components that each city comprehensive plan must include, and among these is:

"A park and recreation element that implements, and is consistent with, the capital facilities plan element as it relates to park and recreation facilities. The element shall include:

(a) estimates of park and recreation demand for at least a ten-year period;

(b) an evaluation of facilities and service needs; and

(c) an evaluation of intergovernmental coordination opportunities to provide regional approaches for meeting park and recreational demand."

This PROST plan has been developed with attention to these requirements.

RECREATION AND CONSERVATION (RCO) OFFICE REQUIREMENTS

Washington Recreation and The State Conservation Office (RCO) is a state agency that "manages several grant programs to create outdoor recreation opportunities, protect the best of the state's wildlife habitat and farmland. and help return salmon from near extinction." The agency awards approximately 230 grants totaling $60M per year. To be eligible for grant funding, a municipality or agency must have adopted a recreation or conservation plan prior to applying for a grant, and plans must meet specified requirements. Once a municipality has a plan adopted, it is eligible for 6 years. The methodology, organization, and content of this PROST plan will be developed to address RCO guidelines for municipalities seeking grants from the following accounts:

- Aquatic Lands Enhancement Account (ALEA)
- Boating Facilities Program (BRP)
- Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF)
- Washington Wildlife and Recreation Program (WWRP)
- Youth Athletic Facilities (YAF)

RELATED DOCUMENTS

CITY OF LAKE FOREST PARK REQUIREMENTS

Improvements in this PROST plan have been developed for consistency with Lake Forest Park's Municipal Code which includes street and right of way requirements, building codes, critical area ordinances, and a shoreline master program governing the city's waterfront.

This PROST plan will form a 6-year and 20-year capital improvement plan informing near-term and long-term city budgeting, procurement, and construction and has been developed in coordination with several past and current planning initiatives. Details of the following plans, as they pertain to parks, recreation, open space and trails, are described in the Level of Service and Recommendations chapters.

LAKE FOREST PARK COMPREHENSIVE PLAN 2015

The comprehensive plan includes a parks and recreation element that outlines goals and policies.

100 YEAR LEGACY PLAN 2008

This is Lake Forest Park's 2008 PROST plan which was recently renewed with RCO to continue grant eligibility.

SOUTHERN GATEWAY SUB AREA PLAN 2012

This plan promotes the transition of intensities of use along Bothell Way (Hwy 522) and resulted in zoning changes that allow mixed-use and multi-family developments with accompanying vehicular, bicycle and pedestrian transportation improvements.

SAFE STREETS PLAN 2017

The city's Safe Streets Plan recommends traffic calming measures and improvements to pedestrian and bicycle infrastructure.

LYON CREEK CULVERT REPLACEMENT STUDY 2017

The study addresses structural deficiencies and improve fish passage at Lyon Creek. The report is of interest because of the contribution to the ecology and enjoyment of the city's parks and open spaces.

LAKE FOREST PARK CAPITAL IMPROVEMENT PLAN 2017-2022

Within the city's proposed capital improvements are several that influence or improve parks, open spaces and trails. The following are considered in this document.

- Wetland crossings in the right-of-way along McKinnon Creek Trail.
- Tennis court lighting at Lake Forest Park Elementary School.
- Bank stabilization and creek crossing from Pfingst Animal Acres to Palmer property (Big Tree Park).
- A new picnic shelter at Animal Acres.

SAFE HIGHWAYS STUDY 2018

The study explores ways to improve safety, access, and health by accommodating multimodal transportation along SR 522 (Bothell Way NE) and SR 104 (Ballinger Way).

TOWN CENTER VISION PLAN

With a new bus rapid transit system coming to Lake Forest Park, the city is currently exploring the impacts and opportunities these investments will bring in 2024. The Town Center Vision effort is currently in progress and community input generated through the winter and spring of 2018 will be considered in this PROST plan as appropriate.

CITY OF SHORELINE PARKS RECREATION AND OPEN SPACE PLAN

The city of Shoreline recently completed its own PROST plan which is significant because of the frequent use of Shoreline parks by Lake Forest Park Residents. Notable in this plan are proposals to construct a new community center and aquatic center, expand opportunities for connection with nature, and expand recreational facilities (athletic courts and fields, and playgrounds).

METHODOLOGY

The Lake Forest Park PROST plan has been developed through an open and inclusive process, consistent with the State of Washington and City of Lake Forest Park planning requirements. The project is incremental and progressive with each phase building upon previous work. The process began with investigation of the city's context and demographics, and analysis of its park and open space assets. This investigation was coupled with community engagement to determine the level of service being provided and needs and desires for future improvements. This input led to recommendations for park and open space improvements which will be reviewed, tested, and prioritized with community input, and formed into a vision for the future, with a capital improvement plan outlining the steps to implementation. Oversight and input into this process has been provided by Lake Forest Park staff, Tree Board, Planning Commission, City Council, and newly formed Parks Board.

GUIDING PRINCIPLES

To create a valuable and useful planning tool, the preparation of this PROST Plan has been guided by the following principles:

COMPLY WITH LAKE FOREST PARK COMPREHENSIVE PLAN: Develop a PROST Plan that responds to the recreational and environmental goals and policies of the Comprehensive Plan.

COMPLY WITH WA RECREATION AND CONSERVATION OFFICE (RCO) PLANNING REQUIREMENTS: Develop a plan that makes the city eligible to apply for RCO grant funding.

EVALUATE LEVEL OF SERVICE PROVIDED AND ADDRESS PUBLIC NEEDS AND WISHES FOR RECREATIONAL AMENITIES AND OPEN SPACES: Investigate public needs and desires, propose recommendations, and validate recommendations through public review.

CREATE AN IMPLEMENTATION PLAN FOR PROPOSED CHANGES AND IMPROVEMENTS: Form a six year parks capital improvement plan which informs the city's budget and implementation.

INVENTORY & ASSESSMENT

COMMUNITY CONTEXT

Set among the forests, meandering creeks, and wetlands at the northern tip of Lake Washington, Lake Forest Park was founded in 1912 as one of the Seattle area's first planned communities. Consisting primarily of single-family residences on medium to large lots, Lake Forest Park is unique with its layout following natural landforms and capitalizing on the beauty of its ecological assets. A transcription from an original brochure by Ole Hanson, the city's founder states...

"the strict fiat has gone forth that all the natural beauty must be preserved; that no tree must unwittingly be cut down; that the natural wild flowers must remain; that the streams, the springs, the lake front, the nodding willows, the stately cedar, the majestic fir, the quivering cypress and the homelike maple and all the flora and fauna with which Nature has blessed this lakeshore, must not be defiled by the hand of man"

This decree summarizes the high value that the city and its residents place on the natural environment.

Lake Forest Park was officially incorporated in 1961. In 1964, Town Center was constructed as the city's primary commercial area, significant in a city zoned almost entirely for single family housing. Town Center eventually grew to a total of 18 acres of government offices, stores, businesses and restaurants.

Lake Forest Park's youth population is served by Shoreline School District's Shorecrest High School, Kellogg Middle School, and three elementary schools, Briarcrest, Brookside and Lake Forest Park. Of these schools, Brookside and Lake Forest Park are located within the City of Lake Forest Park, the others are located within the City of Shoreline.

DEMOGRAPHIC CONTEXT

The population of Lake Forest Park per the 2010 US Census is 12,598 people in 5,024 households (one or more people), and 3,502 families (two or more people). Lake Forest Park grew slowly but steadily from its founding until a significant population increase in the 1990's and 2000's, resulting from land annexations, brought the city close to its present size. Recent years since 2009 have witnessed only minor increases or decreases in population size.

Year 1970 1980 1990 2000 2010 Population 2,530 2,485 4,031 13,142 12,598

Age

In 2010, 58.6% of households were married couples and 30.2% of households had children under the age of 18. The average household size in 2010 was 2.49. The median age in the city was 45 years, with age distribution is as follows:

22.8% < 18, 4.4% 18-24, 22.8% 25-44, 34.9% 45-64, 15.1% 65+

Lake Forest Park Households With Children

ECONOMICS

Economically, the median household income in 2010 was $70,367, with only about 2% of families below the poverty line.

ETHNICITY

The city's racial makeup revealed in the 2010 census was 90.21% White, 3.6% Hispanic/Latino, 1.14% African American, .39% Native American, 4.6% Asian, .23% Pacific Islander, and .80% from other races.

Lake Forest Park Age Distribution

Lake Forest Park Ethnicity

DEMOGRAPHIC FUTURE

In the years ahead, Lake Forest Park's population density is likely to remain similar to its current numbers due to the predominance of single family homes in the city, but may see localized growth in the city's southern region due to the additional multi-family housing promoted by the Southern Gateway Sub Area Plan. This growth coupled with population growth throughout the Puget Sound region may increase pressure on the city's park and open space resources from neighboring communities, and may increase pressure on the city to welcome higher density multi-family housing. Growth in the region and neighboring communities, along with the future Shoreline light rail station in Shoreline will likely increase traffic congestion on Bothell Way Hwy 522, NE 145th St Hwy 523, and Ballinger Way NE Hwy 104 and on city streets.

One trend that may shape Lake Forest Park is the likelihood of an increasingly aging population. With a large segment of the population in the 45-64 age range, the city will likely see an increase in the number of retirees and senior citizens in the next decade.

ENVIRONMENTAL CONTEXT

FORESTS

Lake Forest Park has a dense tree canopy cover and healthy mixture of native evergreen trees, primarily Douglas fir and Western red cedar, and deciduous trees, primarily big-leaf maple and vine maple. While the city owns a few forested properties, tree canopy is preserved by the value placed on tree canopy by residents, the city's large lot sizes and its stringent tree protection ordinance requirements.

STREAMS

Lake Forest Park includes two urban streams, Lyon Creek and McAleer Creek, which both originate north of the city, collect several tributaries within the city, and then discharge into Lake Washington.

Lyon Creek is known to be utilized by salmonids including coho and sockeye salmon, and steelhead and cutthroat trout. King County Metro rated salmonid habitat suitability as good in 1989, but conditions are believed to have declined since the rating. Lyon Creek collects drainage from several tributaries within the city, including Bruggers Creek, McKinnon Creek, and Schoolhouse Creek. Lyon Creek flows through Whispering Willow Park and Lyon Waterfront Preserve.

Lake Forest Park Household and Population Forecast

McAleer Creek is utilized by chinook, coho and sockeye salmon, steelhead, rainbow and cutthroat trout. Chinook salmon are listed as a threatened species under the federal Endangered Species Act (ESA). Several of McAleer Creek's tributaries including Brookside and Whisper Creeks are known to support salmonids. McAleer Creek was rated "good" by King County Metro for salmonid habitat and water quality, but conditions may have changed since the rating (Watershed 2007). McAleer Creek flows through Blue Heron Park and Pfingst Animal Acres Park. Additionally, Brookside Creek, a tributary draining into McAleer Creek originates from wetlands in Grace Cole Nature Park.

Where streams pass through parks, protective shoreline buffers free from clearing, grading, and non-native vegetation must be maintained. Because Lyon Creek and McAleer Creek are seasonally utilized by fish for spawning or passing, they are likely designated Type F streams necessitating a buffer measured from the ordinary high water mark (OHWM) of 115' standard, or 70' if enhanced to increase function and value of the stream. Buildings and structures must be set back an additional 15' from the buffer edge.

Where stream buffers lie within a steep slope hazard area (greater than 40%), the buffer shall be the greater of either:

- the minimum buffer for the stream type;
- 25 feet beyond the top of the slope.

Additional information about proposed work near streams is available in Lake Forest Park's "Streams Customer Information Bulletin" and "A Salmon's Guide to Lake Forest Park".

WETLANDS

A review of the City of Lake Forest Park Sensitive Areas Map indicates the presence of wetlands within Blue Heron Park, Grade Cole Nature Park, McKinnon Creek Trail, Pfingst Animal Acres Park. Whispering Willows Park and Lyon Creek Waterfront Preserve were created after the Sensitive Areas Map and therefore are not identified as having wetlands, but due to their vegetation and ecological function, both parks would likely include wetlands under the Washington Department of Ecology (DOE) rating system. Wetlands require a buffer free from clearing, grading and structures, and buffer size may range from 50' to 300' and is dependent upon a wetland's size, value and function rating from I through IV based on DOE classification.

SHORELINES

Lake Forest Park encompasses nearly 2 miles of Lake Washington Shoreline which is primarily developed as single-family residences. Protection of the waters and shoreline are afforded by the city's Shoreline Master Program.

RECREATIONAL CONTEXT

PRIVATE RECREATION FACILITIES

Lake Forest Park has two members-only recreational clubs on the shores of Lake Washington.

Lake Forest Park Civic Club includes a club house, picnic areas, a swimming beach, large fixed-pile pier, boat launch, and other amenities. Members must be homeowners and live in certain areas of Lake Forest Park. Non-member can rent the Club House.

Sheridan Beach Community Club has a private beach and pool for member residents of Sheridan Beach and Sheridan Heights.

NEIGHBORING PARK AND RECREATION AMENITIES

Kenmore, Brier, Mountlake Terrace, Shoreline, and Seattle have parks within a half-mile of city limits and offer amenities not provided in Lake Forest Park, such as access to water activities on the Lake Washington shoreline, and are more conveniently located for some residents.

Kenmore

- Tracy Owen Log Boom Park is a 5.5 acre park with access to Lake Washington Shoreline and the Burke Gilman Trail. It has a fishing pier, a playground, picnic tables, moorage, restrooms, views, and kayak rentals.
- Linwood Park is 1.4 acres with a playground, toddler swings, open lawn, and picnic tables.

Brier

 Bobcat Playground has a playground, toddler swings, a full basketball court, picnic tables, and open lawn.

Mountlake Terrace

 Terrace Ridge Park is a 6 acre linear park with a walking trail, playground and water fountain.

Shoreline

• Ballinger Open Space is an urban forest undergoing forest restoration.

- Bruggers Bog Park has a playground, swings, picnic area, stream access and walking trails.
- Briarcrest Elementary School has a soccer field.
- Cedarbrook Elementary School is closed, but residents use the open fields for walking, running, and other activities.
- Hamlin Park is a large, forested, hilly park with nature trails for hiking, biking, and wildlife viewing, baseball/multi-use fields, a playground, a horseshoe pit, open space, public art, a rentable picnic shelter, restrooms, and a water fountain.

Seattle

 Little Brook Park is a small neighborhood park with a playground, swings, open lawn and a restroom.

TRAILS

Lake Forest Park is located along the King County maintained Burke Gilman trail which passes near Town Center on its 27 mile journey from Seattle to Marymoor Park in Redmond. The city provides a trail map identifying park trails as well as roads and walks conducive to walking and bicycling, and transit connections to parks and trails.

PROGRAMMED ACTIVITIES

The City of Lake Forest Park offers recreation programs primarily through partnerships with neighboring cities and private businesses. The city contracts with private non-profit provider Sound Generations for senior citizen health, fitness, financial and social services, and contracts with the YMCA for youth after-school programs. Third Place Commons at Town Center is contracted to host community events including performing arts, a farmers market, children's playtime sessions, teen and youth events, and senior citizen events. The city also contracts with the Shoreline/Lake Forest Park Arts Council to provide Concerts in the Park, art and cultural events, and family activities.

Many Lake Forest Park residents participate in programmed activities provided by neighboring Shoreline and Mountlake Terrace. Residents receive an 8% discount on program fees for activities offered by the City of Shoreline and its Spartan Recreation Center. While no formal agreement or discount program exists with the Mountlake Terrace Recreation Center, many residents participate in its programs and use its facilities. Both of these facilities offer extensive youth and adult sports, fitness, arts, cultural, and social activities. Publications listing the activities at each facility are available online.

OPERATIONS & MAINTENANCE

Lake Forest Park's parks and open spaces are operated and maintained by city staff. The city strives to use integrated pest management, an environmentally sensitive way of dealing with pests that strives to keep pests at an acceptable level rather than totally eliminating them, minimizing damage to plants while reducing pesticide use.

Volunteer efforts contribute to the city's parks and open spaces. Notable among these is Lake Forest Park Stewardship Foundation who assists the city with trail maintenance, invasive plant species removal, habitat restoration, education, and open space acquisition. Also notable are Lake Forest Park StreamKeepers who voluntarily monitor water quality in McAleer Creek, Lyon Creek, and the surrounding watershed. The Master Gardeners, Lake Forest Park Youth Council and neighborhood led efforts also provide park maintenance such as planting, weeding, and cleanup work parties.

FUNDING

In past efforts, park improvements have been funded through a combination of City of Lake Forest Park funds as well as contributions from grant sources and private philanthropy. Past grant funds have been provided by King County Conservation Futures and the Washington Recreation and Conservation Office (RCO).

INVENTORY OF PARKS AND OPEN SPACES

Lake Forest Park has eight established parks. The city acquired 2 new properties for parkland at the end of 2017, informally referred to as Five Acre Woods and Big Tree Park, bringing the total number of parks to 10 and parkland acreage to 26.4. These new parks are included in the park inventory as they have unimproved trails that are currently accessible to the public.

Included in the inventory, but not the assessment, are the privately owned facilities such as the Lake Forest Park Civic Club, Sheridan Beach Club, and the Southern Gateway Park and nearby parks in adjacent cities that provide recreational activities not available to all residents of Lake Forest Park, such as access to Lake Washington. These facilities contribute to the recreational amenities available to residents and will be considered in the Demand and Needs Analysis and Recommendations sections of this report.

A synopsis of LFP's parks and park features is at the right, with a more detailed look at each park following.

INVENTORY & ASSESSMENT OF UNDEVELOPED PUBLICLY-OWNED LAND

Land owned by Lake Forest Park, King County, and Seattle Public Utilities are identified on the following map and assessed for their potential park, recreation, open space, or trails development. The assessment considered size, slope, vegetation, critical areas, location, and ownership. Parcels are given one of the following rankings:

- High can support active or passive recreation
- Medium can support active or passive recreation on a portion of the property; constraints such as steep slopes, critical areas, or intercity agreements limit development
- Low may be able to support limited passive recreation, such as trails, seating, or viewpoint; constraints such as steep slopes, critical areas, lot size, or contested ownership would make development difficult
- Not appropriate parcels with constraints of size, critical or sensitive areas, inaccessible slopes or have other functions that cannot be, or are very difficult, to mix with public use

Properties that have potential to fill a park, recreation, open space or trail need will be discussed further in the Recommendations section.

PUBLIC INVOLVEMENT

Planning the future of Lake Forest Park's parks, recreation, and open spaces relies heavily on public involvement, and the community is engaged through multiple channels. Participatory events and an online survey provide the public with multiple opportunities to comment about current and future park usage.

The Picnic in the Park community event at Pfingst Animal Acres kicked-off the public outreach events on a Saturday afternoon. The public was introduced to the project and process and information was collected about preferred park activities.

An open house at Lake Forest Park City Hall held on a mid-week the evening collected public opinions and prompted lively discussion about specific parks, features, and access.

An on-line survey was advertised and distributed through multiple avenues; Lake Forest Park's website and Facebook page, the project's website, the Nextdoor website, a variety of community groups e-mail lists (such as the Friends of Third Place Commons, the Lake Forest Park Moms Facebook page, the PTA groups of Brookside and Lake Forest Park Elementary Schools), the Lake Forest Park Youth Council, and flyers.

The community can keep in touch with the progress of the plan in several ways. The city of Lake Forest Park announces meetings and other information on their website and social media outlets. There is also a project website, www. lakeforestparkprostplan.info, that provides up to date information on the plan's progress and public outreach results.

Future open houses will provide feedback from the community as the report progresses. This report will capture the community's goals, needs, and wishes, and it will summarize the outreach findings. A summary of public input is discussed in the Demand and Needs chapter of this report. Results from all events will be included in the Appendix.

DEMAND & NEEDS ANALYSIS

A Demand and Needs evaluation, also referred to as Level of Service (LOS) analysis, is the investigation and measurement of how well the parks and recreational needs of the community are being met. This report takes both a quantitative and qualitative approach to identifying community-specific park needs in Lake Forest Park.

Lake Forest Park's current parks are evaluated using criteria from:

- 1. National Recreation Guidelines
- 2. Peer City Comparisons
- 3. Washington State Recreation Guidelines
- 4. City Plans and Policy
- 5. Public Satisfaction

NATIONAL RECREATION GUIDELINES

Comparing Lake Forest Park's parks to the nation provides a quantitative benchmark and a starting point to measuring the performance of its park system.

The National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA) is an association of park and recreation professionals which publishes recognized recreation guidelines and provides third-party accreditation through its Commission for Accreditation of Park and Recreation Agencies (CAPRA). The level of service guidelines originally developed in 1983 are minimal, requiring basic ratios of 1 acre of park land per 1,000 people.

In 2017, NRPA published a review of 925 park agency's performance across the nation. The typical US park agency that serves a jurisdictional population of less than 20,000 has a median ratio of 10.5 acres of parkland to 1,000 residents (the lower quartile has a ratio of 4.4 per 1,000 residents, the upper quartile has a ratio of 18.1 per 1,000 residents).

Lake Forest Park's ratio of 2 acres per 1,000 people exceeds the basic CAPRA guideline, but is below the national median ratio. To reach the national average, Lake Forest Park would need another 2 acres per 1,000 resident, or 29 acres.

PEER CITIES COMPARISONS

Comparing Lake Forest Park to its peers gives us a more distinct benchmark. Peer cities are selected not only for similarities in population, but density, area, commercial area, topography, and proximity to Lake Forest Park. (See the comparison charts on the next page.)

Lake Forest Park has the fewest acres of city-owned park land. It is comparable in acres of park per square mile. It has the smallest ratio of acres of park per 1,000 residents. All of the peer cities came in below the national median.

It should be noted that this data does not include other recreational resources, such as schools or undeveloped public land that may be used by residents. Nor does it consider park use in neighboring cities, such as Hamlin Park (Shoreline), Log Boom Park (Kenmore), Shoreline's Spartan Recreation Center, or Mountlake Terrace Recreation Center. While they are not owned and operated by the city, they are frequented by residents of Lake Forest Park.

WASHINGTON STATE RECREATION GUIDELINES

Washington State's Recreation Conservation Office (RCO) outlines level of service standards to guide PROST planning

The RCO level of service guidelines focus on a community's success in setting and meeting its recreation and open space goals, and proposes that municipalities measure level of service on several criteria including: distance, means of access, support of "muscle-powered" recreation, condition of facilities, sustainability, and public satisfaction.

DISTRIBUTION

The RCO level of service criteria examines the percentage of residents within one-half mile of a neighborhood park and while cities vary greatly in their goals for park distribution, many use one-half mile as a standard. Some cities though are striving for even greater distribution with a goal of each household being within a one-quarter mile or 10 to 15 minute walk to a park.

Using these guidelines, approximately 67% of Lake Forest Park area is within a half mile walk of a park entrance and only 34% is within a quarter mile walk. (See map at right)

Another measure of park distribution is the number of parks per neighborhood. (see map, next page) There are nine neighborhoods in LFP and five contain parks.

Five of the ten parks reside in the boundaries of Brookside neighborhood and includes the Town Center of Lake Forest Park.

Grace Cole, North Lake Forest Park, Horizon View, Sheridan Beach, and Southeast Lake Forest Park each have one park. Southern Gateway, Sheridan Heights, and West Lake Forest Park do not have any city parks. It is important to note that the Southern Gateway is zoned for the highest density with multi-family unit housing, Sheridan Heights is zoned for the smallest sized single family lot, and West Lake Forest Park is a mix of high density multi-family housing with larger single family lots. These residents have less access to open space from private gardens or yards.

ACCESS

Lake Forest Park provides a map on its website of preferred walking and biking routes around the city. All of the parks are accessed with at least a walking route. However, barriers such as topography, few park entrances, poor wayfinding, limited parking, and traffic can restrict access to many of the parks.

More than half of survey respondents drive to the parks. However, many residents would use trails or sidewalks if they were available or felt safe.

The Access Map, which follows in the Recommendation chapter, includes the Safe Streets Plan priorities as well as public comments and proposed access improvements.

CITY PLANNING INITIATIVES

City planning initiatives involving public outreach provide insight to the needs of community. Below is a summary of the existing plans and goals that factor into the Needs and Demand Analysis of the PROST Plan, as well as a new approach in classifying parks to help determine levels of service.

LAKE FOREST PARK COMPREHENSIVE PLAN OF 2015

The Lake Forest Park Comprehensive Plan of 2015 promotes goals to:

- Increase the number and quality of parks with activities desired by the community
- Provide safe and accessible trails within and to the parks
- Protect wildlife habitat and sensitive areas
- Provide informative and aesthetic park signs
- Continue to develop and expand public art and cultural heritage
- Engage the community with quality programs and events
- Utilize the 100 Year Legacy Plan to support park development

The plan classifies parks into three categories: Community Park, Neighborhood Park, and Mini Park. The narrow descriptions of these categories, based on a size and geographical range, make identifying the parks in LFP difficult. Further, there is no benchmark set to quantitatively evaluate the parks or illustrate the actual performance of the parks.

A new approach to park classification and evaluation of Level of Service will be discussed in the following section.

100 YEAR LEGACY PLAN

Lake Forest Park has been using the 100 Year Legacy Plan to guide park projects and acquisitions since it was adopted in 2008. It is useful to summarize the goals from this plan pertaining to the parks.

- Acquire lakeside parcels and open street ends to increase public access to shoreline
- Develop a multi-use trail for bikes and pedestrians through the Tolt Pipeline easement
- Create a central plaza or civic space for community gathering
- Create new park land by acquiring new property or improving the use of public land (for example, lidding the reservoir at Horizon View Park)
- Integrate habitat and open space fragments into contiguous greenways and walking trails
- Create parks at gateways between neighboring cities

SOUTHERN GATEWAY SUB AREA PLAN

Planning recommendations from the Southern Gateway Sub Area Plan that refer to parks are to:

- Provide more parks and open spaces, such as small sports courts or plazas, at opportune locations
- Provide more opportunities for toddlers and youth play spaces
- Provide more public access to Lake Washington
- Use Crime Prevention Through Environmental Design to increase safety and security

A NEW APPROACH TO LEVEL OF SERVICE

This report reclassifies the parks based on use types rather than park size or adjacencies. By assigning use types to the parks, the city can respond to community-specific needs and demands in relation to the whole park system. Since a single park can have more than one use type, developing a city-wide target mixture can help the city plan for new amenities, avoid underutilized assets, and make better use of funds spent on acquisition, development, and maintenance. It is a flexible measuring tool, the same way parks are flexible in delivering service.

Based on current parks functions and amenities, there are five use types of parks in LFP:

Nature Parks - places with scenic nature, wildlife viewing, ecological value, hiking and walking trails

Play Parks - places with play equipment, supports small gatherings

Sports Parks - athletic fields, sports courts, large areas of open space for team sports

Event Parks - open areas that can support large community gathering events, typically with access to restrooms, parking, electricity

Passive Open Space Park - unprogrammed, passive space with lawn and/or vegetation, paths and seating to support small gatherings

To determine the current distribution of park use type in Lake Forest Park, each park is given one point for each use type it offers. The points for each use type are added and then divided by the total number of points of all use types to calculate the percentage.

Lake Forest Park's current distribution of park use type is:

50% Nature Parks, 13% Play Parks, 6% Sports Parks, 13% Event Parks, and 19% Passive Open Space Parks.

Data from the public participation events about park activity preferences suggest the city offer a ratio of: 40% Nature Park, 20% Play Parks, 10% Sports Parks, 10% Event Parks, and 20% Passive Open Space Parks.

These ratios will be tested and refined at the next public workshop.

A more detailed discussion of a city-wide target of park distribution based on use type will be discussed further in the Recommendation section.

PUBLIC SATISFACTION

Public opinion was collected through several participatory events. As described in chapter 6, the public outreach events and the on-line survey focused on questions relating to current and future park use and preferences. The results were comparable and summarized below. Results and comments from all events are in the Appendix.

PARK USE

The Lake Forest Park parks most visited are Horizon View Park and Pfingst Animal Acres, community parks that are active and passive, respectively. The most popular five parks from each event are shown below.

| Most Visited Parks in Lake Forest Park |            |  |  |  |  |
|----------------------------------------|------------|--|--|--|--|
| Combined Respondents (439)             | # of votes |  |  |  |  |
| Horizon View Park                      | 202        |  |  |  |  |
| Pfingst Animal Acres                   | 164        |  |  |  |  |

| Grace Cole Nature Preserve             | 72         |  |  |  |  |

When other nearby park resources (parks in neighboring cities, as well as private recreation clubs) are considered, the most visited parks are:

| Most Visited Parks in Lake Forest Park and Nearby |            |  |  |  |

PARK ACTIVITIES

Park preferences are consistent with the more passive activities LFP residents prefer; Walking/jogging, scenic views, lake access, wildlife viewing, hiking, and open space, bicycling, and playgrounds. The results are also reflective of the aspects residents like about living in LFP: Places to be in nature, the trees, the community, places to stroll, places with views.

Activity preferences for nearby parks, however, lean more toward active experiences, including lake access, swimming, dog park, botanic gardens, and indoor fitness.

Residents were asked how well the parks met their recreational needs/interests on a scale from 1 to 5, with 3 being the most frequent rating.

PARK BENEFITS

The residents of LFP value the natural setting within which they live. The park benefits cited as most important are wildlife habitat, aesthetics, mental health, recreation experience, and physical health. These results confirm the community's needs and desires to support and improve nature parks and provide more active recreation opportunities.

PARK IMPROVEMENTS

In the on-line survey, residents were asked what park improvements are most important to them and which improvements are most important given a limited budget. The order varied only slightly between the two questions with the top priorities being trails and connections, lake access, more parks and open space, ecological health, restoration, restrooms, and more community events as top tier improvements. Secondary priorities were more active forms of recreation, such as playgrounds, dog parks, community events, and sports/games.

In considering all public input, the most requested improvements for parks in Lake Forest Park were:

Trails and connections - Additional comments from the survey and public meeting further describe the need to walk to the parks safely, have a park within walking distance, and have more trails within the parks.

Lake access - Lake Forest Park does not have any public water access (Lyon's Creek Preserve is shoreline, but has no water access). Residents must either be a member of a private recreation club or visit a neighboring city park to access Lake Washington.

More parks and open space - Additional Comments from the survey and public meeting further describe this need for more active parks with a variety of activities.

PROGRAMMING

Third Place Commons at the Town Center is the most visited place for city sponsored or private programming, even more visited than Shoreline and Mountlake Terrace's parks and recreation centers. Community events and performances are well attended with a high satisfaction rate. Comments suggest Third Place Books is a highly valuable public resource and more programming is desired, but the facility itself could use renovation to better support programming and residents' needs. Some residents also have concerns with potential public/private conflicts as this is the only indoor location for public gathering and events.

The residents who participate in programming at Shoreline's Spartan Recreation Center and the Mountlake Terrace Recreation Pavilion are generally satisfied with the programs. Swimming is the most popular activity, especially at Mountlake Terrace. Classes and active programming are more popular in Shoreline, most likely due to the partnership between LFP and Shoreline. LFP residents commented on the difficulties of getting into programs because they cannot sign up on opening day. More programs for children, seniors, and people with disabilities are desired.

Regarding new programming, residents requested a variety of active programs for all age groups, from skate parks to indoor play space to guided hiking trips. A community recreation center in LFP is cited as desirable. Pickleball is a surprisingly common suggestion and gaining popularity in many communities. It must be noted however, the respondents requesting pickleball did not live in LFP, but do use LFP parks.

CONCLUSION

LFP residents are generally satisfied with their parks. Nature parks rate high with residents, which corresponds to their preference for passive nature activities, especially walking. Residents enjoy the farmer's market, outdoor summer events, and indoor performances and events at Third Place Books, contributing to a sense of community.

However, residents frequently travel to parks outside of LFP that offer more active choices, lake access, and recreational programming. While Lyon's Creek Nature Preserve is a popular park, there is a strong desire for a park with swimming and a boat launch. In addition, parks are not distributed equally around the city, especially in the denser areas of the city, nor are there enough parks to meet national guidelines. This contributes to park access difficulties. Residents also desire more variety in programming, both outdoor and indoor, that appeals to all ages.

Residents would like to see improvements to their parks and programming in several main areas:

- Safe and accessible routes to parks, more accessible trails within the parks
- 2. More parks and open space, especially parks that are in walking distance, active parks, and dog parks
- Lake Washington access for boat launching and swimming
- 4. More community events, such as holiday events, outdoor movies, and concerts
- 5. More programming with better facilities. Those residents who use Shoreline's Spartan Recreation Center are generally satisfied with offered programs, but would like more variety in programming. Residents are generally satisfied with the programs offered at Third Place Commons, but some find the facility out-dated, unable to adequately support events, and restrictive of public use.
- A community center / recreation center providing space for public events, meetings, classes and active recreation and programs.

RECOMMENDATIONS

This chapter discusses recommendations for improving Lake Forest Park's PROST system. While residents indicate a general satisfaction with the city's current park system, the level of service analysis identified specific need to increase parkland, park distribution, access, and use types. To meet these needs, the following goals and strategies have been established.

RECOMMENDATION GOALS AND STRATEGIES

1 INCREASE RATIO OF PARK ACRES PER 1,000 RESIDENTS.

STRATEGY A: DEVELOP CITY OWNED LAND INTO NEW PARKS STRATEGY B: ACQUIRE NEW PROPERTY

2 INCREASE PARK DISTRIBUTION SO THAT ALL CITY RESIDENTS ARE WITHIN ½ MILE OF A PARK

STRATEGY A: STRATEGIES 1A AND 1B ABOVE

3 IMPROVE ACCESS TO PARKS VIA WALKING AND BICYCLING

Strategy A: Improve park access via city-wide sidewalks and trails Strategy B: Continue the development of city-wide park identification, wayfinding and interpretive sign system

4 IMPROVE ECOLOGICAL HEALTH OF OPEN SPACES

Strategy A: Restore native plant communities and waterways in parks and open spaces

5 DEVELOP PARK USES CONSISTENT WITH PUBLIC INTEREST.*

STRATEGY A: PROGRAM ACTIVITIES TO MEET PUBLIC NEEDS

Strategy B: Partner with adjacent communities to share facilities

Strategy C: Improve existing parks with New Amenities

STRATEGY D: STRATEGY 1A AND 1B ABOVE

*From the public outreach and level of service investigation, a target use type distribution of 40% Nature Park, 20% Play Parks, 10% Sports Parks, 10% Event Parks, and 20% Passive Open Space Parks is the basis for this plan's recommendations. This use distribution should be evaluated and re-forecast with future planning efforts to maintain consistency with changing community interests.

Each strategy is further discussed with detailed recommendations below.

STRATEGY 1A: DEVELOPING CITY AND PUBLICLY OWNED LAND

Lake Forest Park and other public entities own numerous undeveloped parcels throughout the city as illustrated in the Inventory and Analysis. While not all of these are suitable for park development due to existing uses, natural features, environmental critical areas, or land use regulations, several have been identified as possible sites for recreational and trail use.

The criteria used to select these potential park sites include;

- Locations in areas that lack a park within ½ mile walk
- Connections that improve pedestrian access
- Sites that can support park Use Types that meet the new city-wide targets (see Demand and Needs Analysis).

The following map identifies these sites with a brief description of their potential development and use.

PUBLICLY - OWNED LAND DEVELOPMENT

LFP Public Land

Other Public Owned Land - (Seattle, County, or Utility)

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- (5) City of Seattle SPU Tolt Pipeline: Upgrade the existing trails with surfacing, regrading, and/or trail steps. Add small gathering spaces or pocket parks with seating, plantings, or small play areas at nodes.
- 6 LFP Public Works 19201 Ballinger Way: Install a drive and trail access to allow pedestrians to walk or bike to the to Baird Property and connect to Forest Park Drive NE.
- Baird Property: This property could support an active park with trails, playgrounds, skate park, court sports, gathering areas, a lawn, and wayfinding and interpretive signs. Pedestrian and bike paths could connection Forest Park Drive NE to Ballinger Way along a trail through Public Works. Invasive species and native plant restoration would be performed as needed. A design plan and additional consultant services would be required.
- (10) Culver Property: Potential trail through a wooded area offering an alternative to walking on the sidewalk along the busy road.
- (11) Lake Forest Park Elementary School: Tennis courts are currently available to the public. Soccer fields and other facilities could also be open to the public.
- (19) City of Seattle SPU: Trails around the reservoir could connect trails at Horizon View Park and offer scenic views from gathering areas. A parking lot would allow access for more visitors.
- Brookside Elementary School: During non-school hours, the school could provide parking for Big Tree park. It could also offer public use of the play field and playground.
- (28) Grace Cole Extension & Unopened ROW: This parcel could support a nature play park with climbing structures for younger and older kids and a small trail system. Invasive species and native plant restoration would be performed as needed. A design plan and additional consultant services would be required.
- (31) Unopened ROW NE 35th Ave: A trail with trail steps could open NE 35th Ave and connect neighborhoods.
- Grace Cole Expansion: Use adjacent ROW off 30th Ave NE to access and connect this parcel of Grace Cole Nature Park for use as passive recreation with trails, interpretive signs, and seating areas at viewpoints. Invasive species and native plant restoration would be performed as needed.
- 33 City Hall: Replace some parking outside of City Hall with a small gathering space or plaza, lighting, and tree park to commemorate retiring city staff; or negotiate to develop public space within the town square. A design plan and additional consultant services would be required.

STRATEGY 1B: ACQUIRING NEW PROPERTY

The city's property acquisition approach should be based on monitoring properties offered for sale, pursuing the purchase of specific properties, and seeking philanthropy or life estate property transfers, recognizing that several of the city's existing parks are the result of past benefactors.

As properties become available, the decision to acquire a particular parcel may need to be made quickly and while each will pose a unique case, the following criteria are prioritized based on level of service needs and offered as guidance.

ACQUISITION CRITERIA

Priority acquisitions are those in which the property:

- Is appropriate for recreational use under land use codes and critical area ordinances
- 2. Can be acquired and maintained with a sustainable financing strategy
- 3. Allows vehicle, bicycle and pedestrian access
- 4. Will be publicly and politically supported
- 5. Provides access to Lake Washington
- Increases parkland in under-served areas of the city (see map in the Demand and Need Section of this report)
- Provides continuation of existing trails especially McKinnon Creek Trail, Tolt Pipeline Trail
- 8. Increases pedestrian and bicycle connection to existing parks and trails
- 9. Has potential to provide a needed Use Type identified in the Demand and Need analysis
- 10. Connects to or expands an existing park
- 11. Expands and protects an existing park's ecological assets.

STRATEGY 2: SAME AS 1A AND 1B

STRATEGY 3A: IMPROVING PARK ACCESS

Lake Forest Park's characteristic meandering streets and differing neighborhoods provide a unique and pleasing integration of the city into its forested hills and ravines. This layout contributes to the beauty and ecology enjoyed by residents, but also presents a challenge to park access. Recognizing that walking, running and bicycling are among the most popular recreation activities expressed by the community, circulation improvements are proposed within parks and extending beyond. The proposed improvements will require detailed coordination and review with the city's public work standards and streets and transportation plans including the Safe Streets 2017 plan and Safe Highways Plan currently underway. The adjacent diagram proposes new walks and trails to improve park access. Because these are located in rights or way or easements, each improvement will require further due diligence and investigation as part of its implementation.

STRATEGY 3B: DEVELOPING A PARK SIGN SYSTEM

PARK SIGNS

To increase awareness and appropriate use of city parks and aid in navigation, each park should include a park identification sign and park rules sign. Signs should be developed to continue a consistent size and design language.

Additionally, the city's existing directional wayfinding street signs should continue to be developed for new parks.

Existing Park Identification Signs

Park Wayfinding Sign Options

INTERPRETIVE SIGNS

Interpretive signs can communicate the rich ecology, history and artistry of the city's parks. Interpretive messaging is best coordinated in an overall interpretive plan or learning curriculum for a park prior to development of individual signs. Curriculum or interpretive plan development provides an opportunity to engage local experts, educators, students and volunteers. Once interpretive themes and messages are developed, a unified design language of sign bases and graphics should be developed for each park.

STRATEGY 4A: RESTORING NATIVE PLANT COMMUNITIES AND WATERWAYS

The forests, wetlands, streams and wildlife of Lake Forest Park provide the highly valued, desirable character, lifestyle, and ecology that draw residents to this community. Many of the city's parks illustrate a commitment to this natural ecology in their recent funding, improvements, and volunteer efforts. General restoration recommendations to continue advancing ecological health include:

- Remove invasive species, especially English ivy (Hedra helix) and Himalayan blackberry (Rubus armeniacus).
- Install native understory plants to restore the environment and compete with invasive species
- Prioritize restoration planting along forest edges and paths where invasive species are most common
- Monitor water quality, bank stabilization and possible obstructions in waterways
- Continue working with volunteer organizations on habitat restoration
- Coordinate park improvements with city-wide tree canopy protection and enhancement*
- * Parallel to this PROS planning effort, the City of Lake Forest Park is conducting a tree canopy assessment evaluating the city's percentage of tree canopy cover and comparison to past coverage. Park improvements should be coordinated with the tree canopy assessment and with tree protection and restoration recommendations from the City's Tree Board.

Additional park-specific ecological recommendations are included in the park plans and recommendations that follow.

OPERATIONS AND MAINTENANCE RECOMMENDATIONS

In 2016, a Parks Task Force: State of the Parks Report was completed to assess 10 years of restricted park maintenance resulting from the recession. The report recommends hiring a landscape contractor to complement public works crew, seasonal employees, and volunteer staff, and a maintenance plan and schedule for each park.

Some park specific recommendations from this report have been completed by the city, while others are discussed in the Improving Existing Parks section which follows.

STRATEGY 5A: PROGRAMMING TO MEET PUBLIC NEEDS

Lake Forest Park residents are generally satisfied with programming options offered by the city at Third Place Commons. Events there receive a high satisfaction rating, though residents express the private facility has limitations in terms of quality and flexibility of space that can support current and future programming needs. There is also concern that as a private amenity it is restrictive to public uses, such as large public gathering or quiet meeting space.

More types of outdoor and indoor community events were requested by residents, including movies, food events, holiday celebrations, and performances. Outdoor programs can be supported by existing parks, while indoor activities would need to partner with private facilities.

Civic space, in the form of a community recreation center, would be considered a valuable public resource for programming and gathering space. More community outreach is needed to explore this as a possibility.

STRATEGY 5B: PARTNERING WITH ADJACENT COMMUNITIES

Lake Forest Park residents make frequent use of the Shoreline Aquatic Center and Mountlake Terrace Recreation Center. These amenities are appreciated by the community and existing partnerships should be maintained. The city should also explore a partnership with Mountlake Terrace Recreation Center to expand recreation opportunities.

Residents who participate in recreation programming at Spartan Recreation Center programs are generally satisfied. Improvements in marketing, enrollment, quality of facilities, and more programs for children, seniors, and people with disabilities are desired. Lake Forest Park could work with Spartan Recreation to make enrollment easier, increase enrollment for more popular programs, or host LFP specific programming at Shoreline's facilities.

To aid this relationship, use agreements should be periodically reviewed and updated, and surveying of facility users should be conducted to determine appropriate cost sharing.

STRATEGY 5C: IMPROVING EXISTING PARKS

Each existing park can benefit from recommended improvements which have been developed based on the site inventory and public needs identified in this project's outreach. The following is a vision and description for each park's development.

GRACE COLE NATURE PARK

ADDRESS: 30th Avenue NE at NE 166th Street

SIZE: 15.2 Acres

PARK TYPE: Community Park

PARKING: 4 spaces and 1 ADA space at main entry. Additional parking is available along the shoulder of 30th Avenue NE

CRITICAL AREAS: Steep slopes (west portion of site), wetlands and headwaters of Brookside Creek (east portion of site)

A wetland bordered by a steep forested slope, Grace Cole Nature Park is a passive, natural area with trails, interpretive signs, and a boardwalk. As the headwaters of Brookside Creek, the wetland and its surrounding buffer are ecologically valuable, and volunteer restoration efforts are improving the park's ecological quality. A 2.71 acre area in the southeast section of the park is designated as a wildlife sanctuary and is inaccessible to visitors.

Grace Cole Nature Park is named for a former State Representative who was also a School Board Member, civil leader and community advocate. The park is the result of a grass-roots community effort led by the Lake Forest Park Stewardship Foundation to raise funds and form the park.

IDENTIFIED NEEDS

- New pedestrian connections to the park
- Improved trail connection to the boardwalk
- Interpretive signs about the wildlife sanctuary
- More gathering/seating areas
- Trail maintenance
- Invasive plant removal

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- 1. New park entrances with a kiosk and trails to connect to existing trails
- 2. Renovate eroding trails
- 3. Improve trail from parking area to boardwalk
- 4. Add seating/gathering areas
- 5. Develop interpretive curriculum and install signs
- 6. Prune trees at viewpoints
- 7. Develop a Forestry Management Plan
- 8. Remove invasive plants and replace with native plants

EXISTING AMENITIES

BLUE HERON PARK

ADDRESS: NE 170th Street at Hamlin Road

SIZE: 1/2 Acres

PARK TYPE: Mini Park

PARKING: 3 or 4 spaces, no ADA spaces

CRITICAL AREAS: McAleer Creek buffer and wetlands

Blue Heron Park is a small, natural park encompassing a stretch of McAleer Creek, and most of the park is within the creek buffer. The park includes benches, a drinking fountain, a bike rack and walking trails, but its location at the busy intersection of Brookside Blvd NE and Hamlin Rd NE impacts its aesthetics, environmental quality, and visitor experience. Because of its location near Bothell Way NE, the park holds an opportunity to serve as a visual gateway welcoming motorists to Lake Forest Park.

Blue Heron Park was created in conjunction with King County as an environmentally-friendly demonstration garden. Recent improvements include a new pedestrian foot bridge across McAleer Creek providing a passageway through the park to Brookside Boulevard NE and the Town Center.

IDENTIFIED NEEDS

- Street front improvements
- Update the planting plan
- Parking updates
- Improve circulation and gathering areas
- Improve wayfinding from Town Center and Whispering Willows Park
- A place maker
- Continued ecological restoration

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- 1. Install street edge plants and irrigation
- 2. Renovate existing trails installing new gravel
- 3. Remove trails and plant with native species
- 4. New trail loop
- 5. Renovate gathering area with new gravel and site furnishings
- 6. Viewing/seating area at creek edge
- 7. Interpretive signs
- 8. Park identification and wayfinding signs
- 9. Stripe parking area and ADA stall
- 10. Prune existing trees/shrubs for views into park
- 11. Play area nature play climbing structure for older kids/teens
- 12. Remove invasive plants and replant with native species

WHISPERING WILLOW PARK

ADDRESS: 17038 44th Avenue NE

SIZE: approx. 0.62 acres PARK TYPE: Community Park

PARKING: 4 spaces and 1 ADA accessible space, additional parking available at nearby Town Center

CRITICAL AREAS: Lyon Creek stream buffer, note: because this park is newly constructed it does not appear on city critical area maps, but the site will likely classify as wetland under WA DOE rating criteria

A small, lush natural area along Lyon Creek, Whispering Willow Park includes a walking path and boardwalk with benches set among healthy riparian plants. Although not a native species, a large stately weeping willow punctuates the park. The park was created as part of the Lyon Creek Flood Mitigation Project, and interpretive signs in the park explain the site improvements. From Whispering Willow Park, a trail extends along Lyon Creek to Lake Forest Park Town Center.

IDENTIFIED NEEDS

- Improve wayfinding from Town Center and Blue Heron Park
- A loop trail from the boardwalk

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- Wayfinding signs/artwork at Town Center trailhead
- Wayfinding signs/artwork at 44th Ave NE trailhead
- 3. Bike rack
- New boardwalk to make a small loop trail preserving wet meadow views
- 5. Native trees to screen Town Center buildings
- 6. Interpretive signs about wet meadows (to complement Blue Heron Park's forest creek signs)
- 7. Replace bench with social seating and furniture
- 8. Add more bird boxes
- 9. Remove invasive plants and replace with native species as needed
- 10. Create a tree health assessment and replacement plan

LYON CREEK WATERFRONT PRESERVE

ADDRESS: 17337 Beach Drive NE

SIZE: .89 Acres

PARK TYPE: Community Park

PARKING: 1 ADA accessible space

CRITICAL AREAS: Lyon Creek stream buffer

Redeveloped in 2015 as part of the Lyon Creek Flood Mitigation Project, Lyon Creek Waterfront Preserve encompasses 100 lineal feet of Lake Washington Shoreline and approximately 250 feet of Lyon Creek, a salmon bearing stream. The park is a natural area, vegetated to provide shoreline and creek buffer habitat. Visitors amenities include a short waking trail, boardwalk, interpretive signs, and pier extending into Lake Washington. Because the site is an environmentally sensitive creek mouth, water access is not provided.

The park is easily accessed by foot or bicycle from the nearby Town Center of Lake Forest Park and Burke Gilman Trail, but is not visible from either.

IDENTIFIED NEEDS

- Improve wayfinding from Burke Gilman
- Additional seating
- Pier repairs

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- Wayfinding signs/artwork at Burke Gilman Trail
- 2. Replace handrail on pier
- 3. Renovate seating at the end of the pier
- Replace shoreline forbs with low, native grasses or sedges 4.
- 5. Seating and gathering space with artwork
- Bike rack 6.
- 7. Remove invasive plants
- Create a tree health assessment and replacement plan

PFINGST ANIMAL ACRES PARK

ADDRESS: NE 178th Street and Brookside Blvd.

SIZE: approx. 4 acres

PARK TYPE: Community Park

PARKING: approximately 38 spaces located on both sides of

Brookside Blvd NE, and 2 ADA accessible spaces

CRITICAL AREAS: McAleer Creek stream buffer and wetlands, steep slopes southwest portion of site

An open lawn with mature trees bordered by a forested ravine and McAleer Creek, Pfingst Animal Acres provides passive recreation and serves as the setting for programmed events such as Picnic in the Park and Concerts in the Park. The open lawn area of the park includes a loop walking trail, picnic tables, demonstration garden, and several sculptures. Among the sculptures are a cast bronze offer and pup, a metal dogwood flower that serves as a drinking fountain, and a bust of Peru's Admiral Miguel Grau Seminario donated to the city by the Peruvian Consulate.

The forested ravine that contains McAleer Creek provides a lush backdrop to the park and includes a wetland. This area can be accesses by two spur trails, one leading to a bench, the other to an overlook deck. The creek is a salmon bearing stream and the deck includes interpretive signs and is used for salmon viewing and juvenile salmon release projects conducted by students.

IDENTIFIED NEEDS

- Renovate lawn and install irrigation
- Additional trails through the forest
- A new location for a restroom
- Covered picnic shelter

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- 1. Renovate lawn and install irrigation
- 2. Picnic shelter
- 3. Restroom
- 4. Seating and gathering space
- 5. Zipline and climbing play area
- Connect plant beds to create an ornamental garden along NE 178th St. & install irrigation
- 7. Replant area around statue
- 8. Install trail steps
- 9. Additional loop path along creek
- 10. New trail over creek to connect with Big Tree Park
- 11. Install gravel and regrade paths
- 12. Interpretative signage with artwork

EAGLE SCOUT PARK

ADDRESS: NE 178th Street at NE 180th Street

SIZE: 1/3 Acres

PARK TYPE: Community Park

PARKING: None, but parking is available an nearby Pfingst Animal

Acres

CRITICAL AREAS: None

Eagle Scout Park opened in 2017 and is a neighborhood play park within close proximity to Pfingst Animal Acres. The park provides play equipment, bike racks, benches and a drinking fountain, as well as a lawn area, trees and plant beds. The planted areas are irrigated and having been recently constructed, the park is in very good condition.

The Eagle Scout Park property is owned by the Lake Forest Civic Club, but is open to the public.

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

1. New aesthetically inviting entry gate.

playground plant beds

trash cans

drinking fountain

MCKINNON CREEK TRAIL

ADDRESS: terminus of 184th Street

SIZE: 1.6 acres (estimated)

PARK TYPE: TBD PARKING: None

CRITICAL AREAS: McKinnon Creek stream buffer, wetlands, steep slopes

Situated in a roughly 60 foot wide right of way corridor, this park offers a  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile trail along McKinnon Creek. The trail begins at the end of 184th Street and ends at a Lake Forest Park Water District fence.

Currently, the park is difficult to locate and the trail has no specific destination or recreational amenities, but holds opportunities for further development. Current volunteer efforts are improving trail conditions and removing invasive species from the forest.

IDENTIFIED NEEDS

- Trail surface improvements and vegetation clearing
- Connections to NE 187th Place and 47th Avenue NE
- Wayfinding to the trail head
- Improve trailhead and parking

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- 1. Improve trail surface
- 2. Improve trailhead with a small kiosk, new gate, signage, bench, and vegetation clearing
- 3. Renovate parking stalls with new gravel and curb stops
- 4. Install wayfinding signs
- 5. Install interpretive signage about restoration activities

HORIZON VIEW PARK

ADDRESS: 19800 47th Avenue NE

SIZE: 8.4 Acres

PARK TYPE: Community Park

PARKING: 19 spaces and 1 ADA space

CRITICAL AREAS: None

Lake Forest Park's primary active recreation facility, Horizon View Park includes play equipment, basketball and tennis courts, picnic tables, horseshoe pits, a temporary restroom, and open lawn area including a baseball backstop. The play equipment is popular with neighborhood children, and the park is popular with dog walkers.

Horizon View Park is located on a former NIKE missile site and is also the highest topographic point in the city. To the south of the park is a Seattle Public Utilities water reservoir and a trail system extends from Horizon View Park around the reservoir.

IDENTIFIED NEEDS

- Playground resurfacing and equipment update
- Lawn renovation
- Repair cracks in path
- Regrade ADA parking stall and path
- Restroom
- Active recreation

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- 1. Upgrade playground surface
- 2. Upgrade /add playground equipment: new swings, spinners, seesaw, swings
- 3. Covered gathering area
- 4. Renovate horseshoe pit and add games: bocce ball, chess table, ping pong
- 5. Fenced dog park
- 6. Pickleball court
- 7. Install soccer goal post
- 8. Lawn renovation and irrigation
- 9. Small restroom
- 10. ADA accessible parking stalls and path from parking lot
- 11. Additional or renovated seating/gathering areas
- 12. Improve trail to NE 201st PI; widen and prune/thin vegetation for sightlines
- 13. Repair sidewalk cracks
- 14. Wayfinding signage to Tolt Pipeline

FIVE ACRE WOODS

ADDRESS: 40th Place NE at 45th Place NE

SIZE: 5.6 Acres

PARK TYPE: Community Park

PARKING: Pull-off area for 1 or 2 cars

CRITICAL AREAS: Wetlands, steep slopes

Acquired in 2017, Five Acre Wood is an undeveloped site of second growth forest with a small stream that flows into Lyon Creek, wetlands, large, native trees, invasive ground cover, and steep slopes. Early concepts for this property include hiking trails, outdoor environmental education, wildlife viewing, a boardwalk to observe streams and wetlands, and a playground for young children.

IDENTIFIED NEEDS

- Invasive plant removal and native plant restoration
- Trail network
- Safe parking and pedestrian access

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- 1. Install parking lot
- 2. Improve pedestrian access along 40th Place NE with sidewalks
- 3. Build a trail network
- 4. Gathering area with seating and interpretive signage about the forest
- 5. Nature play park
- 6. Simple shelter/outdoor classroom
- 7. Remove invasive plants and restore with native species
- 8. Park sign with new plantings
- 9. Park design plan

BIG TREE PARK

ADDRESS: 17450 37th Avenue NE

SIZE: 1.26 Acres

PARK TYPE: Community Park

PARKING: none

CRITICAL AREAS: McAleer Creek stream buffer (115'), wetland, erosion hazard southwest corner, steep slopes northeast portion of

site

Lake Forest Park acquired this property in 2017. It is adjacent to Pfingst Animal Acres and is referred to as Big Tree Park. The site has mature fir trees and rhododendrons, two salmon-bearing streams, riparian wetlands, active wildlife, and an outdoor

The park currently has a short path connecting two gated entrances off of 37th Ave NE and an outdoor fireplace with a picnic table. Conceptual plans for this park include environmental education opportunities, an active, nature playground for small children, ADA trails, a BBQ/picnic shelter, a connection to Pfingst Animal Acres, greenhouse restoration, and restoration and protection of sensitive areas.

IDENTIFIED NEEDS

- Connect to Pfingst Animal Acres
- Gathering space
- Restore or remove greenhouse

RECOMMENDED IMPROVEMENTS

- Renovate fireplace
- Covered picnic area
- Trail connection to creek and Pfingst Animal Acres
- Play area
- 5. Covered outdoor classroom
- 6. New Park sign and plantings
- 7. New plants and lawn
- 8. Remove invasive species and replant with native plants
- 9. Tree care prune, thin, and/or remove hazardous trees as necessary
- 10. Create a forestry management plan
- 11. Park design plan

ESTIMATE OF PROBABLE COST

On the following pages is an estimate of the probable construction costs associated with the improvements recommended for each park. Note that these estimates are preliminary for use in budgeting and scoping future design and construction projects, and are subject to change due to site conditions, final designs, and market circumstances. Each item in the estimate is keyed to the recommendations on the park plans in chapter 7.

CONCLUSION

This Draft Parks Recreation Open Space and Trails Plan has outlined a preliminary set of recommendations to address the needs and desires expressed by the people of Lake Forest Park through the assessment and outreach conducted in this project. The next step in this plan's evolution is to review and test these recommendations for their feasibility and public support, and then begin prioritizing them and forming a strategy and time line for their implementation. Please stay tuned...

The Picnic in the park event, the 1st open house, and the survey focused on questions relating to current and future park use and preferences. The results from the public outreach are shown below in their entirety.

Summary of Comments from Park and Pedestrian/Bike Mapping Exercise

Each comment was analyzed and given a general descriptive code based on the content. Some comments contained multiple descriptions and were given more than one code. The table below summarizes the frequency of the codes from all the maps. The definitions provide a synopsis of the comments. The pages following break down the individual maps with the quoted comments.

| na           | Please do whatever possible to keep or even move more towards keeping the Burke Gilman trail natural. Keep signage simple and unobtrusive. Actually good for all parks, especially thinking of Lyons Creek Preserve. So many do not and private and no oruented signs makes it feel I inviting as well as the poor parking, feel like I'm breaking the law just to park near there as opposed to using the provided spaces 12 lanes of traffic to cross and a major highway and busy trail. |

| Would like off-leash dog park                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| I'd love an official dog park because it would be closer than mountlake terrace and it's a great way to build ocmmunity.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |

| There are no dog parks in LFP! People bring their dogs to parks and take them off leash because there is no place to take the dogs legally in LFP off leash. PLEASE put in a dog park within LFP. Thank you!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |

| Prohibit the walking of dogs in Horizon View Park. Dog owners walk dogs without leashes and leave excrement everywhere. This makes the walk with the child unpleasant and even dangerous. Last week the dog attacked my wife. And the owner just stood and watched. I believe that parks should, first of all, be for people!!!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |
| In Horizon View Park, people do not pick after their dogs!!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| Way too many off-leash dogs at city parksespecially Horizon View.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |
| Until police address all of the unleashed dogs running all over Horizon and the dog poop all over the city, it makes using the areas not very nice, dog owners can be aggressive in Horizon View like they own the place                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| I also like the park community events, pet parades, community music/concerts at animal acres, picnic in the park, etc                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

| The name of our city reflects it's basic appeal and character. I feel that the emphasis on PARKS is next to nil in practice. The city budget obviously has other priorities. In a citizen survey from a few years back, I recall that PARKS ranked fifth out of seven priorities. Not unimportant, but currently neglected to an embarrassing degree given the city's name and the citizen supported ranking in the aforementioned survey. It's time for the council and the mayor to reset their priorities to a degree in order to give more than cursory attention to this issue. It would reflect some respect for the basic premises of our city's existence:  the lake, the forest and the parks. |

| I love Hamlin Park for its hiking and jogging trails through the woods. I also love Grace Cole Park for its natural beauty. The pocket parks near LFP Towne Centre, Whispering Willow Park and Blue Heron Park, offer a welcome patch of greenery in a busy part of town, and I see a lot of different kinds of people enjoying them.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |

| This is an item that needs to be delayed as a part of the Big Five planning and renovation process. The parks are adequate now and not going anywhere. Our City is too focused on trying to do too much at one time. Parks & trees are only a part of what are important to LFP.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |

| LFP Elementary - love the grass soccer field. Please do not ever replace with turf!!!!!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| I like the ones that are most "natural" (grace cole, lyon creek)                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| Having lived here for 49 years, I no longer use the parks as I once did or as often as when my kids were growing up. Now, I                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |

We frequent the civic club the most in the summer but since membership is required I wouldn't include it as a park. We frequent the civic club the most in the summer but since membership is required I wouldn't include it as a park. It would                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

| Lake access, Connections to parks                                         | It's deeply regretful that a private club has swiped the swimming/dock lake access by the Town Center. the buses don't run enough to get to and from the Town Center on evenings and weekends. there's no park and ride, so it's difficult to safely get to the trail and go for a bike.                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

The few parks we have serve only a very select area of our community.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| More parks and open space                                                 | Great mix of parks and places, would be great to have a neighborhood park in North Lake Forest Park. That's where there is the LEAST concentration of options in the city.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |
| More parks and open space,Dog Park, Lake access                       | There are not enough parks in Lake Forest Park. I would like to see an off-leash dog park. Maybe in Horizon View. There is little lake access for everyone.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |

| Not enough active space,More parks and open space,Access in parks | most of the parks are too small to really get any exercise by going to them, so it would be nice to expand and improve connections between parks so one could better exercise with the park as a possible destination. For example, we often walk up the Tolt to Horizon View and around the reservoir. Expanding and improving these type of partner opportunities would be awesome - especially since we have so few pedestrian walkways in the city. Would like more soft-surface pedestrian walkways. |
| Playgrounds                                                               | The open space next to Brookside elementary has really improved. I would love to see a giant treehouse in that space. It would be an excellent way to preserve the feel of the neighborhood, while turning it into a playspace that gets used by families.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                |

The reservoir area is an immensely wasted space with some of the best views in the Seattle area. With so many families living in the area, and the easy access from Ballinger Way, I am certain that a coversion to a play space and picnic/sports field would be highly enjoyed by all.            |

| Playgrounds, More parks and open space                                    | My kids are now out of the house, but up until recently, all the parks were passive except Horizon View. Not enough playgrounds and spaces for kids to run. Need swings! Compared to Seattle, our parks are not great for kids. Parks too far away from Sheridan Heights area. Horizon View park is not centrally located for City residents. The new playground at Eagle Scout Park while great, is on such a tiny lot, the kids can't really run around. Plus, there are no swings!                     |

| restrooms, Does nothave/support desired activity                      | most of the parks lack bathrooms so I don't use them muchwe only cut through them when walking our dogs (on leash of course). I don't find the parks here to be very inviting since they don't have anything to offer like picnic shelters, fire pits, etc. and I have a nice yard so why bother with the park? It seems like we have a lot of land relative to the number of people who use the parks.                                                                                                   |

I do feel welcome in my city's parks, but some which are more hidden/wild I wouldn't necessarily feel safe to visit as a solo woman. That said, I haven't heard of any crimes in our parks, and I feel strongly that the preservation of open/wild space in LFP is worth my need to get a walking partner so I do feel safe in them!                                                                                                                           |

| Connections to parks, Access in parks, wayfinding | I appreciate in this survey it is acknowledged that Parks provide access around town. Willows is a great example of that. Could it be better advertised in town center as a place to buy food and picnic? And developed as such. Just a thought I would like to see the parks more connected through out the city, signage between and walking routes developed. I think circular trails would be good, just walking through and being in nature is great. Not everyone "goes" to the park, but might make a trip through and benift, thinking of the new term, forest bathing |

Soon I won't be able to afford paying higher property taxes and I will have to move north after living here for 20 years. I am not happy at all.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |

| general comment                                   | Mostly parks give people in the neighborhood a place to know each other  As the Seattle area becomes more crowded and hectic, I appreciate the quiet and natural beauty of our parks more every year. Our kids grew up in LFP and enjoyed the parks for the woods as well as the indoor pool and the soccer fields. As empty nesters, we continue to use the parks almost every day for strolls and jogging. For me, Hamlin Park and Grace Cole Park are one of the                                                                                                            |

| Connections to parks, safety                  | It is below, but would like to stress the importance of providing ways to safely access parks that are very close by that don't require driving. The playground very close to us (Horizon View) is wonderful but my children, who are years ten years from being able to drive, can't walk there safely. So sad. |

| athletic fields     | Build dedicated picklball courts. Do not use tennis courts. Tennis players use the courts by different rules than pickleball players and there is often conflict regarding the usage of the courts.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |

| restrooms           | When considering restrooms, carefully consider placement! Really, at a busy intersection and in front of existing neighbors large windows. We use to view the park, now we view s potty! Disgusting!                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

| safety              | No speeding bikes pls!  neighborhood streets should be designed and speed limit enforced so the entire LFP is a huge "park" that people could feel safe walking everywhere in. For example our street, 32nd ave NE, sees walkers with dogs and kids going back and forth all days and evenings, but so are there cars zooming through all day long. There should be more planters, barriers and other road narrowing means to make these                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       |

I'm not sure what the ADA requirements are for BOTH sides of the street having developed side walks, but having one side paved and the other side being a trail would help balance the need for safety on the streets while also not 'overdeveloping' sidewalks everywhere. |                              | Parks are great, and we need more of them, but the reality of lack in housing in Seattle is profound, so the lands are scarce. Living in LFP, where the entire city is already known to have a park like setting, why not take advantage of that and turn more "roads" into share-use paths that connects all the existing parks.                                                                                                       |

| Conoral comment              | It is more than a community center, open extended hours, safe, accessible and a cultural treasure!  Our lives are enriched at low or no cost so we support the Commons with donations.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |  |  |

| Indoor playground            | I would love it if the had a music time program for kids in the fall/winter. It would also be wonderful if the children's area could be improved. Right now it seems more like kid jail with unwanted toys. Only about 4 kids at a time can play in there. If we made it more of a destination play space (maybe in the open area next to the stage) I think it could greatly benefit the other businesses in the commons. |  |  |
| Intergenerational use        | Seems like there's no middle ground between activities for kids and old people                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |  |  |

| Music/Arts Programming, Food | I love that there are random performances on stage often at TPC. I do wish there were more music performances for adults, and evening beverages, like wine, and cheese available to enjoy at those events. I love the farmer's market and occasional children's musicians who come to play on stage there. we are also part of NW Ballet Center so we appreciate being able to perform there.                              |  |  |

| deneral comment                | The gym is beautiful but the pickleball courts are too close to the gym walls. As a result, a lot           |  |
| Gym condition                  | of pickleball players choose to go play in Seattle or Edmonds instead.                                      |  |
|                                | The lines for Pickleball at Shoreline Center need to be redone. No room behind the baseline                 |  |
| Gym condition                  | to seriously play the game.                                                                                 |  |
|                                | I was excited to see pickleball offered but that quickly faded because the lined courts in the              |  |
|                                | gym are too tight to the wall and the dividing thing that comes down in the middle, does so on              |  |
|                                | top the 3 of the courts. That's unacceptable and a waste of money. For those of us who really               |  |
|                                | want to learn the game and play more comptetively, the Spartan Gym is a joke. Many from                     |  |
